Committed Dedicated Trained Security Guards

Tried and tested, all our staff involved in security guarding are fully trained and licensed to meet the rigorous SIA standards - so you're assured a professional and dedicated manned guarding team. With construction site security one of the most desired forms of manned guarding at the moment due to the increasing prices of materials, we can offer superior security guarding 24 hours a day. Trust Security Guards UK to protect your property - our commitment to quality and the highest standards of security guarding means you're guaranteed a cost-effective and reliable solution.

We provide a range of security services throughout the UK

Security Guards UK provide a high quality static guarding service throughout the UK. We have professionally trained, unrivaled, security officers that can be deployed on site anywhere in the UK within 4 hours. Our Operations team would carefully select personnel according to the project requirements and site specific training is given prior to commencement of any project. All of our Guards are SIA and Banksman trained and go through a thorough vetting procedure.
